From Clark Gable's turtle neck sweater to Perry Como's cardigan, men enjoy the comfort and casualness of a sweater. This fall, Canadian knitwear manufacturers have made sure that, along with comfort and casualness, men's sweaters have a fashion story to tell.

Combination fabrics, 80 percent wool and 20 percent "Orion," will also be used extensively in knit sport shirts. These will feature new spaced rib fabrics as well as stripes for two-color effects.

Unlike the women's wear market, certain colors do not predominate for a season and then fade out. Color changes for men are gradual, occurring from year to year instead of season to season. For instance, blues and greens, especially powder blue and olive green, were best-selling colors last spring and are expected to be strong again this fall.

College men across Canada will be right in fashion with the new "Continental styling" found in some sweaters shirts. These are designed to be worn over slacks and feature the lightly squared

On sandy, wild swept Sable Island, the origin of the 300 or so wild ponies which roam the slender, wreck-strewn sandbar is shrouded in mystery. One legend has it that they are the sole survivors of a French settlement sent to colonize the Island in the 15th century; another, that they struggled ashore when the French Frigate L'Africaine struck a bar, and broke up in 1822. Today, they share the lonely island with 20-odd technicians who man the desolate weather station 170 miles east from Halifax.

Not all of the ponies are wild; some have been tamed for patrol work. They have an instinctive sense of direction—indispensable in Sable's savage country.

In winter, when storms cover Sable's coarse grass with snow, the ponies furrow out places where they can feed.

CIVIL SERVICE PAYROLL
Bad news at year's end comes from Ottawa, where Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports latest figures showing civil service has increased from 198,384 to 199,650, in last twelve months ending May 31, 1958. Total monthly payroll of civil service, excluding Crown corporations and other special agencies of government, now exceeds $60 million.

Trouble with government service is that it just keeps on growing in size, without regard to actual need. Unlike private business and industry, all government has to do to meet the payroll is to keep on raising more money in taxes all the time. Creeping inflation in size of Canada's public service emphasizes importance of proposal by Prime Minister Dielenbach to establish a Hoover type Royal Commission to probe into the administrative efficiency of government. Certainly such an inquiry could do much to halt the rapid and costly growth of the number of those on the Federal pay-roll.

Sparking of size of government is that it is matter of historical record that when the government moved from Philadelphia to Washington back in 1800, the total of 150 civil servants involved made the journey in a few stagecoaches. Official employees of the US Government today number some 2,387,000.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE
Government hospital insurance is no bargain, as Manitobans are likely to learn to their sorrow before the end of 1960. Current estimates in Winnipeg suggest that hospital insurance rates may be raised by as much as 50 cents a month for single persons and $1.00 per month for families before the year's end.

Hospital insurance, or any other state-provided service, must be paid for by no less a surcharge than when such services are provided by private enterprise. Trouble is that in general, state-provided services tend to be more costly in the aggregate than those that are privately provided.

Local & District
W. W. Hubbard is a patient in the Hanna Hospital.

Mrs. Olive McKay, of the Craigmyle Hotel, is a patient in the Hanna Hospital, suffering from pneumonia.

Mrs. Margaret Armstrong has arrived home from Winnipeg rights recognizes that high on list of problems faced by pensioners is feeling of loneliness and of being unwanted. Council has sought to do something about this situation by setting up an "Age and Opportunity Bureau" to operate a "day centre" to provide pensioners with an opportunity for productive activities.

Experience in New York City and elsewhere shows that where opportunities have been provided to keep older citizens active and productively employed, number of admissions to mental institutions, hospitals, homes for the aged and so on have been significantly reduced.

Except in cases of total disability, old age has distinct assets—experience, judgment and the like—which are a welfare that far has not recognized. Most damaging to elderly is the quite fallacious but widespread notion that older citizens must necessarily be unproductive citizens. Nothing could be further from the truth.

The happiness of your life depends upon the quality of your thoughts.

Durum Destinations

Where do Canada's exports of durum wheat go? In the 1958-59 crop season reports totaled 161 million bushels. A little over half of this amount, 90 million bushels, went to Western Europe. Grouped under 2-3 million and France, Belgium and Poland just over 1 million. Other users included Austria, the United Kingdom, Lebanon, the Netherlands, Sweden and the United States.

Fegg Efficiency Payment

There will be an efficiency payment on egg marketed in the last quarter of 1958, according to Agriculture Minister Harkness. However, on egg marketers in the first quarter of 1959, no later persons will make a mistake. This will be included in calculating the efficiency payment which will be made for the 12 month period ending September 30, 1960.

RUE STE CATHARINE

Home-made street signs with big-city names are one kind of link between the people of the New North and the rest of Canada. Banking service is another.

Canadian banks have, since the earliest days, taken part in the development of new areas, the opening of new frontiers. Today the chartered banks continue to bring banking services to pioneer settlements as the economic map of Canada is rolled back.

They have at the same time greatly increased the number of branches in established areas across Canada—new suburban communities, expanding industrial centres—keeping pace with the country's population and business growth.

To take care of all these varied needs, 1,200 new branches have been opened by the chartered banks in the past ten years.
